NEW OHIO GOP BOSS TO MEET TOP EXECUTIVE

Scott, Recently Re-elected National Chairman, Will Appear in Columbus

COLUMBUS, Feb. 10.—(AP)—A new Ohio Republican boss—product of a party upheaval 12 hours earlier—prepared today to greet the national GOP chairman who survived a similar uprising a few days ago.

Ray Bliss of Akron, 41-year-old insurance man, is the new Buckeye boss of the Republicans. He succeeded Fred H. Johnson of Zanesville yesterday in a state central committee squeeze play.

The visitor is Hugh D. Scott, who won the right to stay in power over the vigorous campaign of party discontents in a recent national committee meeting at Omaha.

Scott is coming to Columbus to attend a Lincoln day dinner.

In addition to a new Ohio party boss, Scott had awaiting him, an open letter from William Schneider, chairman of the Franklin county (Columbus) Republican executive committee.

Schneider called on "our party's big-wigs, including the members of the national committee, (to) take off their stuffed shirts, put on a pair of boxing gloves and go to work now."

The Columbus Republican took his own party apart in no uncertain terms. A sampling of his analysis:

Lacks New Blood
"There has been too little new blood in Republican leadership in the last 16 years. We have not taken into the fold enough young people and war veterans. The party leaders have taken a we-know-all-the-answers attitude."

"Our people feel themselves lost and want action now."
"We haven't had the courage to slug it out toe-to-toe with the Democratic New Deal demagogues. Instead, we tried to close along and collect votes on a me-too-but-I-can-do-it-better basis."

"It is a fact that the great masses of the people in this country have the impression that the Republican party is run for the benefit of the wealthy, the manufacturing and business interests. What is even more unfortunate is that the Republicans in the last 16 years have done little to dispel this erroneous impression."

"During the recent campaign, it seemed as though a deliberate effort was made to confirm the idea that the Republican party was the party of the rich and the high-minded."

In his three-page typewritten attack on Republican strategy, Chairman Schneider struck at the bi-partisan foreign policy, which he rated as one of the prime reasons the GOP lost successive campaigns.

The vote that unseated Johnson was 27 to 15. Committeemen voted on a motion presented by Herman R. Miller of Toledo to declare the chairman's spot vacant. The committee then immediately elected Bliss to the vacancy.

Bliss has been chairman of the Summit county Republican central committee seven years, a member of the state central committee five years and a member of the Summit county election board.

"There is a formula for Republican victory and we shall find it," Bliss said in a formal post-election statement. He said he would name a policy committee and "offer the people of Ohio an aggressive, constructive and revitalized program."

There were complaints among central committeemen that Bliss' election was a comeback for Ed D. Schorr of Cincinnati, who was ousted from the GOP controls in Ohio by Johnson's election.

"It is strictly a fight by Schorr to regain control of the party," said Miss Margaret Baker of Springfield, who led Johnson's fight more than three years ago.

PLAN CROSS-OHIO BELT CONVEYOR FOR IRON ORE, COAL

Ore goes direct from freighter to conveyor.

Two-way conveyor will be 130 miles long.

Elevated throughout the belt conveyor eliminates grade crossing hazards, surface interference.

A REVOLUTIONARY MEANS of transporting raw ore across Ohio from Lorain on Lake Erie to the Ohio river near East Liverpool is announced by the newly formed Riverlake Belt Conveyor Lines, Inc. The north-bound track would carry coal along same route. The overhead two-way conveyor belt system will cost an estimated $210,000,000 but it is believed would result in an annual saving of $20,000,000 to $45,000,000 in freight rates.

(International)

Salem Would Be Key Link In Proposed Overhead Conveyor

Plans were announced today for a 130-mile system of conveyor belts to haul iron ore from the great lakes to the Ohio river steel mills. The belts would carry up to 20,000,000 tons of Ohio river coal a year on the return trip back to the lakes.

The proposed conveyor line would pass through Salem, with coal and ore stockpiles located here to supply a 19-mile spur line which would branch off to Youngstown. The main line would continue from Salem on to East Liverpool, plans stipulate.

H. B. Stewart, Jr., president of the Akron, Canton and Youngstown railroad, announced formation of the new corporation, Riverlake Belt Conveyor Lines, Inc.

The conveyor system, all elevated at least 22 feet, would cost $154,000,000 and would take 32,000,000 man hours, and at least three years to build. Terminal facilities at Lorain, Ohio, on Lake Erie, and at East Liverpool, Ohio, on the Ohio river, are estimated at a cost of $56,000,000 more.

Stewart said the belt system of handling bulk cargo would save from $20,000,000 to $45,000,000 annually in freight rates on iron ore, limestone and coal consumed by steel mills in eastern Ohio and the Pittsburgh area. Spur lines would serve Youngstown and Cleveland.

Private Undertaking
Private capital will finance the project, Stewart said, and there will be no public offering of stock. Right-of-way for the elevated, enclosed belt system will be sought through the Ohio state government, Stewart said.

The belts would operate the year round, working from major stockpiles of iron ore and coal at each terminal and at Mogadore, near Akron, an approximate halfway point. Smaller stockpiles would be spotted near Parma, where the seven-mile Cleveland spur would start northeast, and at Salem, transfer point for the 19-mile Youngstown spur.

The ore stockpiles would enable the conveyor belts to operate steadily during the four or more months ice locks are carriers in the Great Lakes. "Smaller reserves of coal would keep the fuel flowing north during the average 14-day season winter makes the Ohio river un-navigable."

Stewart said 250,000 horsepower would be required to run the entire project, and a total force of 388 men could do the job.

Incorporation papers for Riverlake Belt Conveyor Lines, Inc., were to be filed with the secretary of state in Columbus at noon today. Stewart, who has been president of the Akron, Canton and Youngstown railroad since 1944, will be the president of the new firm.

Another scheme for linking the lakes and the Ohio, this one by a canal to the east of the proposed belt system, has also been discussed from time to time. Stewart says the belt system can convey ore and coal more cheaply than the suggested canal, although both would be cheaper than by rail.

Stewart estimates that if 15,000,000 tons of coal are carried by the belt annually, the new system can cut $1.06 a ton from the rail cost

Girl Injured By Truck Is Critical

Donna Marie Saunders, 6, of R. D. 4, Lisbon, is in poor condition today at Salem City hospital, suffering from injuries sustained when she was struck by a coal truck on Route 30 near Lisbon Wednesday morning.

Hospital officials said the girl spent a poor night. She has a compound fracture of the left leg, accompanied by severe lacerations and severe shock.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Saunders, she was hit by a truck driven by Richard Spiker, 28, of Youngstown as she started to cross the highway, five miles west of Lisbon, to board a school bus.

Plan City Building For East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE, Feb. 10.—Plans for a new building to replace the condemned 68-year-old structure now housing the jail, fire department and city offices were announced by the city council. A bond issue or tax levy will be submitted at the Nov. 8 election to finance construction.

Senator Neely Demands That Denham Be Fired From NLRB

OPTIMISM NOT RECEIVED WELL

Farm Senators Feel That Economic Outlook Is Not Rosy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(AP)—An administration statement that "the outlook for farmers in 1949 is good" failed today to convince Republican farm senators.

Senators Thye (R-Minn.) and Young (R-ND), keeping a wary eye on skidding market prices, said they found little reassurance yesterday in the optimistic testimony of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

Appearing before the senate agriculture committee, Brannan blamed "speculative influences" for the break in market prices. He ordered the agriculture department to get "full information" on all commodity transactions for the first three days of this week, to see if speculation caused sharp drops in grain and cotton.

Despite a series of reports on the nation's economy during the past few days which have disturbed some people, Brannan said he saw no sign of a general slump.

Shows Decrease
The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported yesterday that the general price index of 28 wholesale commodities—based on 1939 prices—slipped 6.6 points from 276 to 269.4 in one 24-hour period this week (1939 levels equal 100 on the index). And the Federal Reserve board said the week which ended Feb. 2 was the third in a row during which business loans fell off.

The senate agriculture group called in additional government officials today in hope of getting more information on the market decline, which seemed late yesterday to have come to a halt.

Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) planned to hear testimony by commerce department officials who handle exports of wheat, flour and other exports; commodity exchange administration officers who have been buying up supplies to send overseas; and other witnesses.

Thye and Young were critical of the way the government has handled foreign aid buying and farm price support programs.

"The farm outlook is not too good," Young told a reporter after the hearings yesterday. "We seem to be getting back to the same old policies as in 1930-40, when we imported or bought elsewhere more farm products than we exported."

VOTING MACHINES TO BE SHOWN HERE

Two voting machines on display at Lisbon will be brought to Salem Monday for a week's demonstration, the county election board said today.

Space has been reserved in the lobby of the Farmers National bank where voters may try out the two devices by casting trial ballots. Frank R. O'Hanlon, election board clerk, said.

Part of an investigation to determine if the machines should be installed in the county's 121 precincts, the devices have been on display in the commissioners' office at the Lisbon courthouse since last Monday. They were moved from East Liverpool, where they were on exhibit two weeks.

Meanwhile, the election board has made official certification of the secretary of state's office of the list of candidates whose names will appear on the May 3 primary ballots in eight cities and villages. It has started preparation of copy for the Keystone Printing Co. of East Liverpool, which will print the tickets.

Township Road Program Meetings Scheduled

LISBON, Feb. 10.—County Commissioners today scheduled meetings with all boards of township trustees, in preparation of the road program in each township.

Commissioners and County Engineer Charles O. Snyder will meet with each board in scheduled meetings which begin Tuesday, Feb. 15, at 10 a. m. and continue through Feb. 17.

Legion To Hold District Meeting In E. Liverpool

EAST LIVERPOOL, Feb. 10.—This pottery city was chosen for the tenth annual Ohio district convention of the American Legion. Three Legion posts here will be host to 76 other Eastern Ohio posts, July 9 and 10.

Good Place To Think Twice

The effort in the general assembly to force repeal of the Ferguson act forbidding strikes of public employees is a good place for all legislators to think twice.

The law was passed at a time when public employees in many parts of the country had gone on strike against government. It was evident that if this sort of thing kept growing, government itself could fail.

It was the consensus then, as it is now, that employment by the public carries with it a direct obligation to uphold the stability of government. Many public officials had pointed that out. It was plain to all thoughtful citizens that strikes by public employees were an open invitation to anarchy.

That was why Ohio adopted the Ferguson act. The law did no more or less than declare a prevailing conviction of the people about their own protection. That is what all good laws do. If, later, the prevailing sentiment changes, then laws which reflect the new sentiment are enacted. The old laws are repealed.

In this case, the prevailing sentiment has not changed. Strikes against government cannot be tolerated. To assume otherwise, by repealing the Ferguson act, would leave members of the assembly in the awkward position of appealing a minority at the expense of the majority. There has been no change in public conviction. Strikes against the government cannot be tolerated.

What's A Luxury?

House Republican leader Martin is proposing a cutback of so-called luxury taxes on such items as light bulbs, luggage, toilet preparations, jewelry, furs, telephone tolls, telegraph and cable messages, transportation tickets and photographic equipment. He argues that it is wrong to maintain wartime rates on these items.

When his proposal gets to the floor of the house, if it ever does, another argument can be used. A luxury tax has a specific purpose, which is to curtail the use of a luxury by making those who continue to use it pay a high premium for the privilege. There is no reason now to curtail any of the things mentioned. They are not in scarce supply. Some of them are not even luxuries, such as luggage used by traveling men, photographic equipment used by professional photographers, and telephone, telegraph and cable messages.

You Can't Write To Congress

If anything else in the country had gone haywire so completely we'd have delegations descending on congress. Congressional committees would be deep in hearings. The loyal opposition would be raising the very dickens with the administration.

Much of the trouble starts in Russia but even the house un-American activities committee has not blamed it on the Soviet government.

It's the weather. The most contrary, unprecedented and generally cantankerous weather this country ever has known.

The West has had the coldest, snowiest and windiest winter in all history. East of the Mississippi it has been one of the warmest, wettest and blinniest. Neither is entirely good. If we have to make a choice, we'll keep what we have.

America's winter weather originates in Siberia and the region of the Bering sea. It sweeps down across the sparsely settled parts of northwestern Canada and hits the Western Plains states. All are familiar with what it has done there this winter.

It's odd, to say the least, in our land of free expression, to have things go so wrong without being able to make an issue out of it.

Better Stuff

Among the casualties of the war may be listed producers of natural crude rubber and of raw silk. The great bulk of production is in the Orient.

War always spurs inventive genius. The nylon industry, just getting a good start at the time of Pearl Harbor, boomed when silk imports were cut off. Synthetic rubber plants mushroomed to make up for the lack of the natural product.

Women have such a preference for nylon over silk for many of the things they use that the silk growers are in a bad state. New and improved synthetic rubber proves 30 percent superior to natural rubber for some of its most common uses. The synthetic plants in which the United States made a wartime investment of $700,000,000 went begging after Japan surrendered. Now they are being snapped up by private corporations to supply peacetime needs.

The ability of the United States to manufacture at home a product for which it formerly depended on distant lands is all to the good so far as this country is concerned. It presents, however, great obstacles on the way of economic recovery in the East.

If the silk industry fails to reestablish itself, Japan's recovery will be difficult. Without a market for its rubber, Malaysia and much of the East will be burdened with troubles the world will be long in solving.

Dewey Stays In Politics

Governor Thomas E. Dewey made it evident in his Washington Lincoln day speech that he is to remain a dominant figure in American politics.

It was only by a mild kind of inference that he indicated he is not a candidate for future political office. He remains governor of New York until early 1951. Anything can happen in the meantime.

Governor Dewey is only 46 years old. Few men have been so rich in political experience at so early an age. Some of it will be more helpful because it was bitter. Defeat teaches a lot more lessons than victory.

The governor's Washington speech was that of a man who expects to stay in action. It did not take the easy way. It told his immediate hearers and the Republican party as a whole that all has not been well. It pointed out weaknesses with a commendable frankness. It was a speech which will not be entirely satisfactory to extremists at either end but it offered a way for all of them to draw closer together in a program on which they may find a satisfactory course of action.

Mr. Dewey doubtless made some friends by his directness. As titular head of the party, a title to which he referred with a little levity, he will carry heavy responsibilities during the next two years.

The leader of a minority in the American system of government has duties far beyond those of a mere obstructionist. He must point a way of political life and make it so convincing that a considerable part of the public can find agreement with it. He must present a program which those in power cannot ignore.

Governor Dewey has made a start on such a course. It is evident that his voice will be heard with considerable authority during the coming years until the people again vote on policies, personalities and parties of those who will govern them.

For Friday, Feb. 11

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

UNDER adverse and unprofitable astral auspices, it is advised that all possessions of real or personal significance be rigidly preserved against loss, collision, extravagance or any form of spend-thrift or diffusive inclinations. Squandering, excesses and indulgence may have regrettable, unprofitable and profound reactions on pleasant and productive pursuits of well-ordered living. Any show of the gambling spirit, prodigal and imprudent, could forfeit prestige, popularity, private, professional and financial. Shun bombast, show, false pretences.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may have a year in which it is urgent that the most discreet, rational, and correct modes of conduct of their affairs be rigidly adhered to. In all contacts and situations there may be hazard of loss of funds, property, reputation and standing, in which public prestige and personal popularity could be undetermined. Extravagance, waste, immorality or excesses in any direction would be hazardous. Shun gambles, dubious speculation or investment and be not carried away by show, bombast, extravagance or exaggeration. Misplaced confidence, dishonesty, reckless use of funds or energies, could have disastrous reactions on health, fortunes, position, career.

A child born on this day, should have early discipline in the way of thrift and economy, with attention to its integrity, self-respect and sound principles. Extravagance and expediency would wreck any promise of prosperity and happiness in life.

A Curious Far-Flung Disorder

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

In recent years, epidemics or outbreaks of a disorder which appears to be catching has occurred in many parts of the world. This has been called cervical myalgia, as well as pleurodynia.

A number of physicians believe that these two conditions are different forms of the same type of infection. In pleurodynia, the pains are located in the chest, while in cervical myalgia they are in the neck.

Pain in Muscles

An outbreak of these two conditions appeared concurrently in Baltimore in November of 1947. Attacks of pain in the muscles were the only constant symptom in either condition. The pain was usually located in the chest, neck and shoulders, or in both areas. Sometimes, however, the muscles of the back, arms, and legs were affected.

Pain in the lower part of the chest may, in some instances, be associated with pain in the abdomen. In one patient the abdominal pain was so severe that a diagnosis of appendicitis was made.

Usually Normal

The number of white cells in the blood was usually normal. A feeling of sickness was not present, even though there was severe and prolonged pain. The patients frequently had headache, and about half of them had an infection of the upper respiratory tract, such as a cold, sometimes with a dry cough. In most cases there was a slight fever. The temperature was never above 103 degrees F.

The disease last for from two to seven days, but may continue for as long as two weeks.

In cervical myalgia, there might be sudden pain followed by headache, or pain on one side of the neck which is made worse by twisting the neck or bending it. The throat may appear red, but the tissues are not swollen.

A Virus

It would seem likely that this condition is due to a virus affecting the nervous system. However, this has not been definitely proved.

The treatment of cervical myalgia consists of rest, and the administration of preparations to relieve the symptoms. There does not seem to be any drug which directly attacks the infection.

It is important that this condition be recognized when it is present so that it will not be confused with

Golden Gate Birds Take Icy Weather In Stride

SAN FRANCISCO—Winter in San Francisco usually is mild so when a cold spell hits this year the birds in Golden Gate park were momentarily nonplussed.

The usual swarm of seagulls flew around the park's lakes and were surprised when trying the usual splash landing to find ice instead.

Swans were a shocked expression as they waddled toward their morning dip and found themselves slithering across the icy surfaces.

With birdlike ingenuity, however, they solved the problem. Swans were seen ice-breaking their way through the thin sheet of ice and calmly eating from its pop-corn-strewn surface.

NEW GARDEN

New Garden Boy Scout Troop No. 52 is celebrating Scout Week.

The boys appeared in uniform and took part in church and Sunday school services Sunday morning. Rolland Hiscow, scribe, was in charge with prayer by Wayne Amos, readings by John Striffler, Roger Baker and Earl Whinnery.

Scoutmaster Donald Smith and assistant Dale Guthrie and committeemen W. R. Amos and Mayor Hiscow were present. Other committeemen are W. E. Webber and Paul Guthrie.

Following church services the boys and leaders went on a hike.

The boys presented and attached song book holders for church seats. This is one of the services they have done to help the church with its building program.

Tuesday evening the troop held a coverdish supper at 8 p. m. in the church basement. CVharles Roessler, Scout executive from Lisbon, spoke. Tonight the Scouts and their fathers will attend a Father-Son banquet in the Lisbon Presbyterian church.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D. L. Is it possible for a man who is a diabetic to be a father of a normal child?

Answer: There is a tendency for diabetes to run in families; however, if the mother is not a diabetic, it is quite possible that the baby may not have the disease even though the father has diabetes.

Objects To Objection

CLEVELAND, Feb. 10—City council's action in condemning Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty's conviction was criticized yesterday by Hugh De Lacy, director of the Progressive party of Ohio. DeLacy said his party hoped the council would "bring down to Ohio earth its professions of friendship for democracy in other lands."

Duke Gets His Tractor

Duke Thomas bought a farm with the money he'd saved in the Service, but he couldn't get a tractor. He needed it badly, but was tenth on the local dealer's list.

"Tell you what," old man Peters says. "If those nine fellows ahead of you agree, you'll get the next one I get in." "No, thanks," says Duke, "I'll just take my turn."

But old Peters mails out nine postcards. And the other day he tells Duke his tractor will be in next week. "I simply wrote the facts to the fellows ahead of you. They decided it."

From where I sit, it's that spirit of understanding that helps make our democracy so great. Understanding for the other fellow's problems and respect for the other fellow's rights—whether it's his right to earn a living, his right to cast his vote against your candidate, or even his right to enjoy a moderate, friendly glass of beer or ale—if and when he chooses. Let's always keep it that way!

Haviland china and sterling silver, family keepsakes, were used on the bride's table.

The bride, who is employed at the Central Clinic, is making her home in Leetonia.

Gone are the days...

It's a long time since a penny would buy a valentine — comic or otherwise — for a little boy. But it's a long time since a penny could buy much of anything.

Except electricity, of course. Pardon us for pointing, but each penny spent for electricity is a very pretty penny indeed. It buys so much for you! Yes, a single little copper will do any one of these things:

BRING YOU AN EVENING OF RADIO ENTERTAINMENT

SWISH THE DIRT FROM HALF A WEEK'S WASH TOAST THREE FULL LOAVES OF BREAD

VACUUM-CLEAN SIX LARGE-SIZED RUGS

TELL YOU THE CORRECT TIME FOR A WEEK

Yes, electricity does a lot for a little. And that's something, because it costs more to make and deliver electric service to you these days! Your friends and neighbors in this company — under sound business management — have used their skill and experience to make electricity the biggest bargain in your family budget.

Leornians Told Of Candle Making

That candlemaking is an art, as well as a fascinating but painstaking business, was graphically told by Mrs. Milo Shutt of Alliance in a talk on the history of candles at the annual "dutch-treat" dinner meeting of the Leornians.

This interesting program was enjoyed by 32 members and guests of the Leornians who met for dinner Wednesday evening in the Coffee Cup.

Mrs. Shutt, who has made the evolution of candles a hobby, explained that the wick and wax or fat light was known to have been used before Biblical times and there are many references to them in the Old Testament.

She told of the dipping process improvements through the years, and what makes one candle superior to another.

The Middle ages in Europe was known as the candle age, but when the first colonists came to America, they had to revert to the most primitive methods as the proper fats or waxes were not available. Beeswax is the best material but hard to secure.

The Ajello candles are world famous and have been made by that family for the last 175 years. They use science in making their exclusive designs and can determine how long a candle will burn.

Miss Helen Thorpe presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. John Hanna.

The following were unanimously nominated to executive office for the coming year: President, Miss Thorpe; first vice president, Mrs. Harry Loria; second vice president, Mrs. Robert Middeker; secretary, Mrs. Elmer Stamp; treasurer, Miss Ala Zimmerman; assistant secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Martin Roth. The Book club and Leornians will meet together in March.

Mrs. O. F. Sanor conducted the devotions and included a record "The Lord's Prayer" and "Just For Today."

Mrs. B. W. Jones gave a tribute to Washington.

Mrs. Ross Clay read a poem on Lincoln.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Oscar Krepps, Mrs. George Kyle, Mrs. W. W. Luce and Mrs. H. A. Minser.

Martha Circle
When members of the Martha circle met with Mrs. Myron Cana, Jennings ave., Mrs. Clifford Zimmerman was leader of the devotions, which opened with group singing of "Just As I Am."

Mrs. Zimmerman also gave an article on "The Untouchables of India."

Mrs. Charles Bailey presented a paper on "A Day In India" and gave a humorous reading.

This circle contributes to the support of a girl in the Cleveland Christian orphanage and the members plan to send her a doll for Valentine day.

Games, a Bible quiz and a Valentine puzzle added interest.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles Cooper, Mrs. Rosa Phillips, Mrs. Robert Ware and Mrs. Mayhew.

ing of the Rebecca circle at the home of Mrs. Leota Greenisen, W. State st.

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The word "progress" is one man's poison and another man's meat.

It's a word whose meaning depends upon what the person who uses it has in mind when he says it. Which is another way of saying Brown's idea of progress may look like radicalism to Jones but like reaction to Smith.

In his Lincoln day dinner speech last night Governor Thomas E. Dewey said the Republicans are a "liberal and progressive party."

He attacked the Democrats for going, he seems to think, too far, and he attacked some Republicans for not going, he seems to think, far enough.

So some Democrats and some Republicans will disagree with Dewey's idea of progress when he used the word.

TO EXPLAIN what he means, he said his party believes:

"Wholeheartedly in unemployment insurance, in old-age assistance on an increased basis, in broader social security generally, in public development and public housing, in farm price supports, in vigorous protection of the rights of labor."

These are all things President

Truman seems to believe in, too, since he's asked his Democratic-controlled congress to do something about them.

So up to that point Truman and Dewey seem to be seeing eye to eye.

But Truman has another point in his program which Dewey didn't mention last night as part of the Republican party's beliefs, and that is national health insurance.

In his speech Dewey didn't make it clear whether he's against the idea of national health insurance in some form.

But, he lambasted the Democrats' idea of a health program. He said:

"He's for the American people's security but 'by that I do not mean supporting half-baked, badly drawn laws or evil inventions like the Murray-Wagner-Dingell bill (this is the Democrats' bill) which would reduce our doctors to government servitude."

"I propose that, opposing every totalitarian device, we fight ever to enlarge the area of human freedom."

So at this point, since Dewey won't go along on his health bill, Truman may argue that the New York governor is a lot less progressive than Truman. And plenty of Democrats would agree with him.

TURNING HIS attention to his fellow-Republicans, Dewey said some of them would like to wipe out farm price support, unemployment insurance, old age benefits, slum clearance and other such programs.

Such Republicans, the governor said, want to go back to the 19th century and he practically invited them to get out of the Republican party.

But those same Republicans may look upon him not as progressive at all but as radical for backing those programs.

So when you start using the word "progress" you sort of pays your money and takes your choice.

Dewey didn't add to the Democrats' domestic program any items he thinks are "progressive." But he did claim that if the Republicans were running things they'd do it better and cheaper.

This is pretty much what Dewey said in his campaign for election to the presidency last fall. Some people have wondered if Dewey, twice defeated for the presidency, might want to run again in 1952.

And they wondered whether he would say anything startling last night. He neither startled anyone nor gave any hint of his 1952 intentions.

Spanish War Veteran Is Laid Out By Deer

SANDPOINT, Ida.—A 70-year-old hunter is recovering from wounds received in a wilderness struggle with a wounded buck deer.

John Walker was found in his cabin on Lake Pen Oreille by L. F. G. Dendie. Walker's leg was severely gored but Dr. Wendle said his condition was satisfactory.

Walker, a Spanish-American War veteran, told Wendle he was attacked by the wounded deer when he tried to lasso and kill it. It charged him and gored his leg.

Bleeding profusely, the elderly hunter put a tourniquet on his leg and got down the mountain to the lake and his cabin.

Some English Think U. S. Is Still British Colony

LONDON—America is a British colony, according to three per cent of people interviewed in a British colonial office survey of public opinion.

Some 2,000 adults in Britain were interviewed "to aid the colonial office in framing an information policy of realistic nature."

Twenty-four per cent thought most colonial inhabitants were white; 22 per cent thought the colonies paid taxes to support Britain and 25 per cent knew no difference between colonies and dominions.

The colonial office commented: "The British people's knowledge is sketchy and inadequate in the extreme."

Some of England's finest fleeces come from the Orkney and Shetland Islands, where seaweed forms a large part of the sheep's diet.

of carrying coal from the Ohio river to Cleveland or Lorain. The savings would be $1.50 a ton on a 20,000,000 ton annual total.

Belt conveyance of iron ore from Lake Erie to Youngstown would be 47 cents a ton less than rail charges, on a 15,000,000 ton annual total, or 60 cents on a 32,000,000 ton annual maximum capacity, he said.
Savings on ore to upstream Ohio river steel mills by belt and barge would be 53 to 66 cents a ton from rail rates, he estimated.

Stewart said the two-way haul of iron ore and coal should pay off the cost of building the conveyor belt system within 20 years. The belts will have total annual capacity of 52 million tons, and can operate profitably at 30 million tons.

Terminal facilities would speed turn-around time for lake ore vessels, and for storing and handling coal and ore on the Ohio river. A coal washing plant is designed to clean and grade coal.

Saving Huge

Estimates of annual savings if the belt is operated at capacity include: $9,000,000 to steel mills in Youngstown on coal and ore shipments; $10,000,000 to steel mills around Pittsburgh on iron ore alone;
$2,250,000 to mills in Wheeling, W.
Va., are on ore; $10,000,000 on coal to steel mills in Cleveland and Lorain, and $13,500,000 to other consumers of industrial and domestic coal in eastern Ohio.

The system will require 172 separate belts, some of them more than a mile long. They can move 3,400 tons of coal an hour, and 5,400 tons of ore, which is heavier per volume. Belt widths would vary from 72 inches between the Ohio river and the Youngstown spur, 60 inches north from the spur to the lake, to 42 inches for the spur belts.

Engineers who have been working on the plans for several months say the system will require 151,000 tons of structural steel, 267 miles of rubber belting, 400,000 troughing idler units and 217 terminal power units.

The electrically operated belt would be controlled by a push-button system with an electric eye warning device to locate trouble spots. Plans call for the entire system to be enclosed—for one reason to prevent pilferage.

ahoga) asked marriage and divorce law changes in three measures.

Increase Period

One would increase to six months the present six-week period between filing of divorce petitions and court hearings. Gov. Frank J.
Lausche has requested such a provision.

The second contained the six-month provision and also classified grounds for divorce as extreme cruelty, gross neglect and insanity.
Grounds eliminated would be bigamy, adultery, impotency, imprisonment, three years' wilful absence, three years' drunkenness and fraud.

The third would abolish common law marriages and ban mayors and justices of the peace from performing marriages. Judges of municipal, common pleas and probate courts could marry couples. The five to 30-day license waiting period would be increased to 30 to 60 days.
The period for publication of church bans before marriage would be advanced from 10 days to 30.

Another measure to give the governor power to remove sheriffs for dereliction of duty was introduced.
Offered by Rep. Lee Hannah (D.
Clermont), it is in addition to a similar pending bill. The governor now has the power to remove mayors but not sheriffs.

Rep. James R. Joyce (R-Jefferson) proposed changing the state industrial relations department to a department of labor under a labor director.

Boyle's COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—It was Mrs. Trellis Mae Peeble's turn to lead this weekly current events discussion at her club—the croquet and croquet society.

"What's your topic?" asked her husband, Wilbur.

Trellis Mae looked up from her notebook and pile of newspapers. "More husbands for married ladies," she said brightly. "Don't you think it's a wonderful topic?"

"I don't get it," said Wilbur. "And I have a feeling right now I never will."

"I don't see why you say that," complained Trellis Mae. "It's very simple. I got the idea out of the newspaper. It says there's a lady schoolteacher in Germany who found there were 7,000,000 extra German men."

"SO SHE THINKS German wives should be allowed more than one husband. It would keep the poor men from becoming lonely old bachelors. I am going to bring her idea up before our club members for discussion."

"You mean wives would check out husbands like they do books from the circulating libraries?" asked Wilbur.

"Something like that, I suppose," said Trellis Mae placidly. "A wife could have a nice husband to keep around the house—like you, Wilbur. She could have another one—a richer husband—to pay the bills. And maybe a third one to take her dancing in the evening."

"There is something screwball about all this," said her husband. "Give me that newspaper."

Wilbur read the article carefully. And a smug leer spread across his face.

"Why you've got the thing backwards," he laughed. "There are 7,000,000 extra women, not men, in Germany. What this schoolteacher means is that men ought to be allowed to marry more than one woman. It's really a share-the-husband

Buffalo Herd Roaming Hills of Eastern Ranch

CHADDS FORD, Pa.—There's buffalo in the hills around Chadds Ford.

A herd of the western animals are roaming the hills of S. B. Davis's 800-acre ranch but they are not there to improve the scenery. These buffalo are destined for the roasting pan.

Davis, who until recently confined his activities to raising Hereford cattle for market, imported one bull and eight heifers from Texas for the start of his buffalo herd.

He hopes it will grow into a real source of meat for eastern dinner tables.

How does buffalo taste? Good, says Davis. It's a little tougher than steer, but good.

The animals get a lot of attention from motorists on U. S. Route 1 who are accustomed to seeing buffalo only on nickels.

Grappling Hook Snags Fish

MAVSVILLE, Ky.—Police here have a new twist in fight stories. While dragging North Fork Creek with grappling hooks for the body of a supposed murder victim, the officers hooked a 30-pound carp.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach on the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; give the food the ferment food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, sticky, flatulency, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restlessness, sleeplessness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that Sassa Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance.

This is due to the Sassa Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients. Also, Sassa Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better. Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is Sassa Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and health. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people Sassa Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of Sassa Tonic from your drug store today. Sassa Tonic helps build sturdy health.

Struthers Coach Feels Salem Will "Go" Against His Team

Fears Loss Here Friday; Salem Record, However, Would Indicate Opposite

Salem's record may not sound good, but mark my words, those Quakers will go against us," Coach Howie Feldman, tutor of the Struthers Big Red basketball team, said today regarding the Salem-Struthers game here Friday.

Feldman, who painfully recalls how Ben Barrett's underdog Quaker grid eleven tied — and almost defeated — his powerful Struthers grid outfit this fall, frankly says he is expecting to get beat at Salem Friday.

The books, however, would indicate the opposite viewpoint, if records can be counted on for any indication of the outcome. Salem has won only three games in 13 tries this season, while Struthers has won five of 15.

And the Struthers victories include one over East Palestine on East Palestine's floor by a comfortable 55-33 margin. East Palestine, you may recall, is the team that took Salem 34-44 at Palestine just last Friday.

That, for one thing, doesn't make the picture look good for Bob Miller's Quakers, who have a busy slate this weekend with Struthers here Friday and always troublesome Alliance due in town Saturday night.

Struthers has lost to Lisbon (by a single point), Cheneby (by a large margin), Louisville, Lowellville, Ursuline, Niles, East Memorial and Girard. Girard did the trick over Struthers by a 56-48 count last week.

Salem, of course, lost to Lisbon by a wide margin (51-33), was beaten by the new Cheneby outfit 71-52, and lost to Girard here by a 61-46 count, four points more than the Indians beat the Big Red.

Feldman has a crew of veterans on hand this year, but hasn't any great supply of height. In that department Salem will be better off than in more recent games.

Two Struthers football greats, Bernie Skvarka and Ray Yavick, start at the guard spots. Boli, are about 5-9. At center Feldman has recently been starting his tallest man, Duane Ondra, who measures 6-3. He is the "improved man on the team," Feldman says and has helped the squad out a lot. He was brought up from the reserves in mid-season.

At the forwards the Big Red starters are John Siskowic (5-9) and Dick Creed.

Bob Miller's starting lineup probably will remain the same with Tommy Miner, Blagie Faulkner, Jim Callahan, George Resnick and Ed Beach getting the nod. Bob Theis and possibly Don Abrams will see action, too.

Miller anticipates a tough fray and can't understand Feldman's loss expectations. Miller has seen Struthers in action once or twice and feels the game should be a good one, with Struthers having the slight pre-game edge.

ORRIS WRIGHT IS UPSET SPECIALIST IN POOL TOURNEY

Orrie "Boss" Wright is currently the upset man of Salem's pocket billiard championship tournament in progress at the Recreation Billiard parlor.

Wright, a contender for the title in the two-loss elimination affair under way this week, has pulled five surprising matches out of the fire in defeating Roscoe "Doc" Gallagher 125-123 in a thrilling battle and last night edged favored Dean Beck 135-119. Wright is also tied for the high run total of 23, scored during the match with Gallagher.

The victories have placed Wright in the semi-finals of the first round of the tournament, and give him the right to play the winner of the Valley Altomare-Dempsey Balesley match, scheduled to be played today.

The winner of the first round bracket will be paired against the winner of the consolation bracket in an event which will settle the title. Losers are automatically placed in the consolation bracket and will play out another round.

To date Altomare has moved to the front by defeating Pat Ciminelli 125-69 and Rolland Knepper 125-75. Balesley has moved up by defeating Ray Pelton 125-79 and drew a bye the second night. Knepper had taken Ward Kelfer and Beck, who lost to Wright, had defeated Bill Sheen.

Altomare's victory over Knepper included a high run of 32 balls, equal to Wright's best effort so far.

Thirty-two contestants have entered the Class B event, which is just moving into its early stages. Bill Crouch and Al Votaw are winners in early B matches. Thirteen men are still in the B tourney, eliminations due to be made further this week.

Winners in both divisions will receive $25 awards, runners-up will get $15 and high run winners $10 each.

BASEBALL READY TO FIGHT CASE TO HIGH COURT

Shakes Off Legal Shyness And Prepares To Push Gardella To Wall

By BEN PHILGAR
NEW YORK, Feb. 10—(AP)—Organized baseball shook off its historical shyness toward legal action today and prepared to fight the latest attack against its contracts all the way to the Supreme court.

The legal structure is challenged in a $300,000 damage suit by Danny Gardella, a pint-sized outfielder now banned from baseball because he jumped from the New York Giants to the Mexican league in 1946.

A U. S. court of appeals ruled yesterday that the suit may be heard. Commissioner A. B. Chandler, one of the five defendants, said baseball attorneys are ready to go to the Supreme court if necessary.

The next move is up to the defendants, who besides Chandler and the Giants, President Ford Frick of the National league, President Will Harridge of the American league and President George Trautman of the National Association (minors).

They have 20 days to answer yesterday's ruling. The case had been dismissed last July 14 by Federal District Judge Henry W. Goddard.

The court split 2-1 in reversing Judge Goddard.

Gardella, known more for his off-the-field antics such as hanging from a 12th-floor window by his fingertips than for his baseball prowess, is under a five year suspension from organized ball.

In his suit he charged baseball with being a monopoly because of the reserve clause in every contract which binds a player to one club for life unless he is sold, traded or released.

He also charged that baseball should be subject to anti-trust laws because of the large fees received by clubs for radio and television rights.

Gardella figures the ban will cost him $100,000. He asked triple damages under anti-trust provisions.

The appeal judges wrote three separate opinions. Only the one by Judge Jerome N. Frank touched directly upon the reserve clause.

He said it "results in something resembling peonage of the baseball player. The violator may perhaps become a judge, with a less exciting and often less remunerative occupation, or a bartender or a street sweeper, but his chances of ever playing baseball again are exceedingly slim."

ODDITY DEPARTMENT

The American Legion is currently beating the drums for its pending benefit game, Saturday, Feb. 19, between the Class A Mullins aggregation and the Famous Red Heads, an all-woman basketball club of national repute.

The contest should provide an entertaining evening for local cage fans and one that will draw a large throng. It appears that one of the season's largest throngs for an independent fray will be on hand at the High school.

Judnich Is Sold To Pittsburgh Club

CLEVELAND, Feb. 10—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians have announced the sale of Walt Judnich, outfielder and first baseman, to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Judnich, 32, batted .257 for the World Champions last year, and saw considerable action in the World Series. In Pittsburgh, a Pirate spokesman said the deal was made for the waiver price of $10,000.

A veteran of six major league campaigns, five of them with the St. Louis Browns, Judnich had a reputation as a long-distance hitter and a smooth outfielder. He made the transfer to first base in 1947 while with the Browns. When transferred to Cleveland last year, he spent time at both positions.

ODDS AND ENDS

We hear through the grapevine that the comparative newly-organized Columbiana County Officials association is having a minor row with the Mahoning Valley association, to which most district whistlers have belonged of late.

The county outfit is just getting its teeth into the "monopoly" it claims the other outfit has on games throughout this area.

Columbiana High school's new gymnasium-auditorium is certain to be in use by next basketball season.

The Clippers have been orphans this year, playing all of their games away. That, however, isn't bad tournament training.

A team never gets used to one floor and the feeling of worry over a strange floor isn't so prevalent.

CAGE AXIOMS HURT BY "RACE HORSE" STYLE OF PLAY

Points or Defense Seem To Be Meaningless In Game; Look At Ohio Schools

BY FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor
COLUMBUS, Feb. 10—(AP)—The new "race horse" style of basketball is wrecking a couple of old sports axioms.

For years point-minded mentors have been saying "the best defense is a good offense," while the defensive coaches have countered with "if they can't score on you, they can't beat you."

But it looks as if both might be tossed aside now for something along the line of "you gotta have balance."

Marietta's Pioneers, the state's top offensive team—and perhaps the nation's—with 77 points per game, have been beaten five times in 14 starts. They dropped a pair of one-pointers last week, despite a scoring of 151 points. The two foes got 163.

And Mount Union, boasting the best defensive mark of 44.3 points, has been beaten five times in 13 games, losing one to a foe which scored only 40. Mount has held one opponent in the 30's and six in the 30's, defeating all of 'em, but once the opposition got loose the Mount's couldn't stand the scoring pace.

Their best effort is 61 points, and twice they've reached 55.

But the "balanced" teams are at the top. Muskingum, pacing the all-game sector with 13 wins and three losses, has an offensive mark of 67, or 10 under Marietta, and a defensive record of 56.5, a dozen more than Mt. Union.

Akron, in second place with 12-3, has 64.7 on offense and 53.8 on defense. Third place Wilberforce (14-4) is scoring at a 65.7 clip, and holding the opposition to 50.8.

Just to prove that points alone don't pay off, Marietta has scored 1078 in 14 games, and Muskingum has the same figure for 16. And to round out the "screwy" angles, Ashland's Eagles have played 13 games. They've scored 723 points and the foe has scored 723. Not a point difference, yet Ashland has won four and dropped nine.

Muskingum breezed out front by a fraction last week with wins over Marietta and Capital, while Wooster was upsetting Akron — last week's leader—in an overtime. Marietta, with a chance to take over the Ohio conference lead, dropped single-pointers to Muskingum and Wittenberg, 80-81 and 72-71.

Wittenberg, atop the sprawling roof with our straight, has a tough chore this week as the Lutheran hit the road for three games. Ohio Wesleyan, Kenyon and Oberlin all get a crack at the leaders, and the Lutherans must take two of 'em to stay in a tie for the top of Muskingum brushes aside Heidelberg in its lone league encounter.

Last week Ohio teams broke even in two dozen games with out-of-staters, giving the Bucks 105 wins and 96 losses in interstate play. This week's 51-game program has 22 contests with foreign foes, 11 Ohio conference games and three in the Mid-American, in which Butler's Bulldogs have five straight for the top spot at the halfway mark.

Deitel Back with Gillman

CINCINNATI, Feb. 10—(AP)—Addition of Paul Deitel, Plebe coach at West Point last year to the University of Cincinnati football coaching staff, was announced yesterday. Deitel thus rejoins Sid Gillman, who left Army several weeks ago to head the Bearcat gridlers.

Boosters To Hear Adams Tonight

Chet Adams, Cleveland Browns tackle, will screen films of the Browns' undefeated season and will tell of his pro football experiences at the meeting of the Salem Boosters club at 8:15 tonight at the Saxon club, Railroad st.

The "stag" affair this evening is a purely social affair. No business meeting will be held, although a report on the club's latest fund raising campaign may be made. Lunch will be served.

Fritz Bichsel, president, asks that all those selling tickets report their sales at the session tonight. Homer Haldeman is in charge of the project.

Holt and Roller combined talents to lead Leetonia to a 56-44 victory over Fairfield Tuesday evening. Holt marked up 18 points and Roller an even 20.

Tempo Quickens At Junior High

BROADEN PROGRAM UNDER NEW PLAN

Student Participation In Activities Pointed Out By Principal

With the new semester, a new routine is in effect at Salem Junior High school. The school functions more as a unit due to the opening of the Buckeye school and the transfer of students and teachers of the elementary grades.

School activities from now on will be stepped up with special emphasis placed on participation in student council and assemblies.

Student Council
The Junior High Student council which serves as the governing body has Mrs. Bess Cline as counselor. The members plan to sit in on High school council meetings, to gain experience in solving Junior high problems. Sandy Hansell is council president.

Assemblies
Assemblies, which have been irregular events, will be held each week. The program which seventh graders see on Tuesday will be repeated Wednesday for the eighth graders.

To assure worthwhile features for student education or entertainment, Miss Elizabeth Ward, of the Fourth street faculty, will have charge of all assembly programs for this semester. She will work with various classes in preparing the assembly presentation. Dramatic productions will be prepared and the English classes are working on an "Ohio Story" idea.

Honor Study Halls

Three honor study halls are now in operation in the Junior High school according to Principal Loren Early. The plan is new but is really working, and the students in these honor rooms may receive recommendation throughout their school life. It is considered an honor just to be in these rooms, which of course are not supervised. One penalty, one whisper, is all that is needed to be expelled from the honor rooms.

The library is in charge of Miss Ruth Emery and serves as the base of operation for the school health program and the lost and found department.

Twenty-six girls make up the First Aid corps, which has been instructed in routine health and aid matters by Mrs. Arthur Brian, the school nurse. The program is designed to make the school more health-minded and to impart a sense of responsibility as to personal hygiene. The girls also check eyes and weight of the students.

The girls are: Dorothy McKenzie, JoAnn Strauss, Nancy Wolfe, Janet Critchfield, Nancy Bailey, Martha Brown, Nancy Fife, Rose Marie Crawford, Joanne Beck, Pat DeJane, Ann Kelley, Marlene Schmidt, Joyce Coe, JoAnn Pasco, Ann Stowe, Ingrid Nyberg, Estella Sweeney, Rosemary Helman, Carol Middlecker, Carolyn Hoopes, Jane Myers, Lorene Pim, Barbara Cameron, Peggy Howe, Barbara Zeigler and Sally Ruffer.

It is surprising what may accumulate in the lost and found department by the end of each month, Miss Emery says. What is even more surprising is the fact that so many things, some valuable, remain unclaimed. After three or four weeks items are sold or given to the Salvation Army according to what the student council decides.

The library cooperates in many ways with the English science and other classes in arranging displays to fit subject matter studied. Pupils from the English classes also read and write reviews of the various books. Some of these have been published in the Quakerette.

Girls Club

The Girls club, this year under the guidance of Mrs. Lee Pelley, has been in operation for several years. Some 90 eighth grade girls belong to the club which has panel discussions on social questions of special interest to girls of teen age. Boy and girl problems are discussed. At the end of the year there is a briefing as to proper High school decorum. New semester committees are yet to be appointed.

Nature Club

Mervin Thomas and Nelson Melinger are executive officers of the Nature club, whose in-door activities are in charge of Miss Effie Cameron. Scrapbooks for children in the hospital were last semester's project but the members are working on bluebird and wren houses now. The best models will win a prize.

A point system has been set-up and the student with the most points at the end of the semester also will win a prize. Live animals or plants brought in will mean 10 points each, while any other nature material is worth five. There are 25 students in both the seventh and eighth grade classes which meet alternate Fridays.

The out-door work of the Nature club is in charge of Mrs. William C. Baker who takes the students on hikes and exploring trips for plant and bird life. Her husband, a professor at the University of Pittsburgh, often goes along on the nature hunts.

Dancing Club

One of the most popular clubs in the school, for the girls anyway, is the Dancing club with some 60 members in both seventh and eighth grade classes. Mrs. Edith Bowles sponsors the seventh period social dancing, which begins with a grand march on the second-floor hall, which serves as the dance hall. They dance to recordings. The waits has the greatest appeal at present, but demonstrations of other dances are often staged. Recently Barbara Waldrop and Marilyn Dodge showed how to jitterbug.

COUNTY'S FUND RESOURCES SET AT NEW RECORD

LISBON, Feb. 10—County Auditor Irvin J. Vorndran today certified estimated resources for 1949 to county commissioners in the sum of $1,812,340.96 for preparation of the annual budget.

The sum which will represent the largest budget in the history of Columbiana county, is approximately $400,000 above expenditures in 1948 of $1,297,598.24, Vorndran said. The sum also includes a balance in all funds of $284,525.95 in the certification to the commissioners.

Revenue from other sources, including federal and state aid, and gasoline taxes, etc., are anticipated in the sum of $942,818.22, while general property taxes will bring in an estimated $384,996.78 this year.

Expenditures and balances in the various funds on Jan. 1, 1949 as revealed by the auditor are:

	exp. in '48	incl. bal.	Esti. rev.
General Fund	$583,812.30	$875,000.00
Road & Bridge	388,949.03	475,000.00

Temp. Housing	36,979.97	4,500.00

In Castlemaine, Australia, there is a hill that not only breathes, but snores, as air rushes in and out of an abandoned mine below the surface, causing the hill to rise and fall.

Dog Population Gain In County Is Noted

LISBON, Feb. 10—An additional 1,000 dogs were licensed before the deadline, Jan. 20, than in previous years, Auditor I. J. Vorndran said today.

When the last of the applications received through the mail had been issued 10,000 dogs in the county are now wearing the new tags, compared to 9,000 at this time last year.

ART LEADERSHIP GOING TO AMERICA, EXILE BELIEVES

NEW YORK—(UP)—Austrian-born Oskar Kokoscha, one of Europe's leading painters, says the future of art is in America. Europe is down and out where art is concerned.

The 62-year-old expressionist master, who has gained fame in Europe through his "psychological" portraits, is on his first visit to this country. He has come from London, where he settled in 1938 after having fled from the growing Hitler menace in Central Europe.

His large retrospective exhibition is presently touring such cities as Boston, Washington, New York, St. Louis and San Francisco.

Finds Friendship
"My first impression of America was overwhelming," he said in his first American interview here. "I had the vision of something tremendously vigorous and pulsating and yet so human and friendly. I have often heard it said in Europe that New York was a hodgepodge as a city. How untrue. What struck me most in its organic character and the human element in it."
"Europe is down and out where art is concerned. It has been burnt out by wars and revolutions. Vast public organizations dominate its life and art. The freshness and vitality of individualism is disappearing fast."

"It is therefore that I believe the future of art is not in Europe, but in America. You have the vitality, the material resources and the spiritual values necessary for the flourishing of great art. One can already distinguish its first elements."

Coming of Age
"The time has passed when American artists need to flock to Europe for inspiration and schooling. America as a leader in art is coming of age. So I felt at home here the very first day of my stay."
"I hope to recapture in my next pictures the vision I had of the strength and vitality of your country when I caught my first glimpse of it from the plane."
"This has, by the way, always been the technique of my art. Never make a plan or an outline beforehand. I have a first vision, then it disappears and my work consists in recapturing the insight I had gained in my object through my first intuition."

TEA PARTY IN TROUBLED CHINA

ACTING PRESIDENT of China Gen. Li Tsung-jen (left) chats with U.S. Ambassador Leighton Stuart at a tea party given in Nanking for the diplomatic corps. It is reported that Gen. Li later agreed to leave Nanking with the rest of his Cabinet to set up a new Nationalist government in Canton. Nanking was expected to be declared an open city, paving the way for swift occupation by Chinese Communist forces. (International)

THE THEATER

Danny Kaye and Virginia Mayo star in the technicolor gags and gals comedy, "A Song Is Born" showing at the State theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Benny Goodman, Tommy Dorsey, Louis Armstrong, Charlie Barnet are a few of the musical artists that appear.

Gene Autry goes after a killer in hiding in the film "Loaded Pistols" at the Grand Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Barbara Britton also stars. Episode 9 of the adventures of Frank and Jesse James entitled "The Eyes of the Law" concludes the bill.

How Many A-Bombs, Russia Asks U. N.

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 10—(AP)—Russia demanded yesterday the United States tell the United Nations by March 31 how many atomic bombs the U. S. has.

The Soviet Union in a 900-word resolution put before the U. N. Security Council also lashed at the proposed North Atlantic pact.

Warren R. Austin, U. S. Delegate, called the Soviet resolution a "sneak attack" on the arms limitation situation. He said it was made up of all the "beans and different constituents" which Russia has put up to the U. N. on the arms and atomic questions since the U. N. was formed.

The Security Council president, Dr. T. T. Tsiang of China, adjourned the meeting until Thursday at 3 p. m. So the Soviet resolution could be printed and prepared for discussion at that time.

Jakov A. Malik, Soviet deputy foreign minister, introduced two projects put up by Russia at the Paris General Assembly and defeated by large majorities there.

One was a demand for a one-third cut in the armaments of the five great powers—China, France, Britain, United States and Russia.

The other was a demand for simultaneous treaties banning the atomic bomb and calling for world controls on atomic energy.

Hungarian Consul-General Quits

Dr. Bela Balassa, center, acting Hungarian consul-general in New York, is flanked by detectives as he leaves the Consulate building after resigning in protest against the conviction of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty. Ex-Teacher Dies
GREENFIELD, Feb. 10—Samuel Shull, 83, retired school teacher, died yesterday at his home here. He had lived with a daughter, Miss Adelaide Shull, a teacher in Mc-Clain High school. He also leaves a son, Dr. Charles Shull, a member of the faculty of Wayne university, Detroit.

DUBBS MARKET

CHARLES PUISHIS HELPS YOU FIND THE BEER YOU WANT! HE RUNS THE MACHINES WHICH PUT THE IDENTIFYING LABELS ON EVERY BOTTLE OF BURKHARDT'S.

Like stamping "STERLING" on silver

Charles Puishis is running the machine which puts the Burkhardt labels on our bottles . . . the labels that smile at you and almost say, "Here's the beer you like and it tastes exactly the same as it did yesterday—the same as it will tomorrow".

For we have the greatest number of friends we ever had . . . all looking for the Burkhardt label . . . all counting on it to identify the superb flavor they've known and liked for so long.

You can ask Charlie to verify this, if you like. He's been with us for seven years and is proud that he hasn't missed a day in all that time. He's been working on the labelers, as you see him doing, in the picture, for more than four years. He's a steady man and he thinks his present job is the best he's ever had.

He worked in the rubber shops for quite a long time. And he was a farmer for about 20 years—quite a successful farmer, in fact.

Charlie was born in Lithuania and came to the United States with his brother-in-law when he was just a youth. The way he is regarded by his fellow Lithuanians in this country is shown by the offices to which they have elected him.

First, he is president of the local chapter of the Lithuanian Benefit Society, a national organization. He is also president of the Lithuanian American Citizens Club, a local organization whose membership consists only of naturalized citizens.

Charlie's job might look easy to some people, just watching the bottles parade into the machine on one side and come out on the other side shining and bright with their "identification papers". But Charlie has to concentrate on it.

He knows the care and skill and pride that goes into the brewing of every individual bottle of Burkhardt's before it comes to him. He knows also that it's important for a bottle of good beer to look inviting—because then it seems to taste even better!

We're proud of the way our men take such a pride in their work, trying to heighten your enjoyment of Burkhardt's. They are our strongest boosters.

Every one of them knows the complete story of how Burkhardt's is brewed and how the flavor is guarded until you're ready to enjoy it.

And every one of them invites you to enjoy a bottle of Burkhardt's tonight.

Air Mass Collisions Blamed For Odd Winter Weather

WINTER GOES OFF THE TRACK: Here's how abnormal cold air flows from Canada and the Arctic clashed with moist air masses from the Gulf of Mexico. The worst blizzards occurred when the cold and moist air masses met (snow area, above), and coldest temperature extremes developed in the dotted sectors of the west. If winter had been on its regular track, it would have followed normal weather pattern for U.S. (smaller map at left), in which highs and lows travel eastward.

NEW YORK (NEA)—A couple of "air flows," each desperately anxious to get somewhere else in a hurry, collided head-on right after Thanksgiving.

They were very stubborn "air flows" with single track minds. One wanted to get as far as possible from the freezing Arctic. The other had had its fill of sub-tropical heat and was headed for skiing country.

Neither would give way. So they stood around and slugged it out. And that, say the nation's top weather experts, is why California and the Midwest and the Rockies have been afflicted with one of the worst winters in history—while the usually raw Northeast has basked in almost October comfort.

The weather men got together at a session of the American Meteorological society and talked over the situation. They were as intrigued as laymen by the spectacle of deep snow in the Rose Bowl, terrific blizzards coming one after another in the cattle and sheep country, while the Atlantic Seaboard from Florida to Newfoundland enjoy record warmth.

There were Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer, chief of the Weather Bureau; and General Donald Yates, chief of the Air Force weather service; and Capt. Howard Orville, Chief of Aerology for the Navy, and weather chiefs for the major airlines, and Jerome Namias, top forecasting man for the Weather Bureau, among others.

When they got through swapping facts and ideas, they found themselves in agreement on what is happening.

A continuous stream of very cold air started southward from western Canada, and kept coming, wave after wave. A stream of nice warm air started northward from the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico, and kept coming.

When they met, they set up heavy snow storms and blizzards that covered California orange groves with a six-inch mantle, blocked railroads and highways and stranded millions of cattle and sheep on the Great Plains.

The warm high pressure area hung around over the East Coast, giving it a mild winter. The cold high pressure area sloped over the mountains which usually protect Southern California from such unpleasant phenomena.

Namias, who heads the Weather Bureau's Extended Forecast division, says the experts believe that cold-and-blizzard winters are moving in a westward pattern. Thus, next winter the East can expect more normal conditions, but Pacific areas, perhaps as far west as China, may get a rugged time.

Namias points out that two winters ago it was the British Isles that suffered extreme cold and heavy snow. Last winter the East Coast had a bad time, starting with the day-after-Christmas storm that all but paralyzed New York City. This year it is the Middle and Far Western United States, China, and Siberia, would seem to be next in line.

The experts agreed that there is no indication that the world, as a whole, is getting either warmer or colder. They see no reason to worry about the Polar ice cap melting and flooding seacoast areas of the continents.

Neither do they accept the popular idea that atomic bombs, or maybe wartime shooting and bombing, have done something to the weather pattern. They say that all the tremendous energy released by an atomic bomb is not enough to start a decent-sized shower.

Having stuck their necks out that far, the experts ducked any prediction as to when the normal weather pattern in this country will be resumed.

They do think there are signs of a change already, indicating that the "meridional flow" of high pressure currents is moving slowly westward, with temperatures slowly rising in the West and with the East getting closer to the cold weather it expects this month.

AIR FORCE PLANS BETTER STRATOJETS IN THE NEAR FUTURE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10—(AP)—The Air force is planning a B-47 Stratojet bomber even better than the one which whizzed across the continent Tuesday in less than four hours.

There are only two of the Boeing jet craft now. The 62½-ton plane which spanned 2,293 miles at an average speed of 607.2 miles an hour yesterday was the first one built.

Later models—the Air force has ordered 10—will have better equipment, including engines 25 per cent more powerful.

The Stratojet's three-and-three-quarter-hour hop from Moses Lake (Wash.) airbase to Andrews field near here was the fastest ever made across the country, but it was not counted as a record because it did not cover the 2,460-mile official contest course from Los Angeles to New York.

The record for that course is four hours, 13 minutes at 584 miles an hour, set by a Lockheed P-80 shooting star flown by Col. William Council Jan. 26, 1946.

The B-47 was flown by Maj. Russell E. Schieff, a native of San Francisco, and Maj. Joseph W. Howell, of Borden, Ind. Both now are attached to the air material command at Wright field, Dayton, Ohio.

The Air force termed the flight a routine delivery of the six-engine, swept-wing bomber for a congressional air show next Tuesday. Numerous other military planes, including the huge flying wing bomber, the Northrop B-49, also will be shown.

Caught in Storm

THERE WAS a storm within and without the Federal District Court in Washington as Mildred Gillars, known as Axis Sally, appeared for the resumption of her treason trial. The jury continued to hear records of Nazi propaganda broadcasts she allegedly made. (International)

Would Outlaw Collections

AKRON, Feb. 10—Councilman Charles Madden is preparing a city ordinance to make solicitations for charity at movie theaters and sports events illegal, unless the exact time of the solicitation is advertised in advance. "I am not against any of the worthy causes for which the money is collected," said Madden, "but I am against being nicked and dined to death."

Stays at GOP Helm

FLASHING a winning smile, National GOP Chairman Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania raises his hand in victory after winning his fight to retain his post. Efforts to replace Rep. Scott at a party session in Omaha failed. (International)

Indict Two Youngstown Men For Bank Robbery

CANTON, Feb. 10—(AP)—Two Youngstown men were indicted by the Stark county grand jury yesterday for the $1,584 robbery Jan. 17 of the Uniontown Savings and Loan Co.

David W. Longaberger, 29, and John A. Petrovich, 32, were charged with entering a bank in the daytime to commit a felony. This charge carries a possible life sentence on conviction.

Longaberger is under sentence from Mahoning county to a 10 to 20 year prison term for armed robbery of a Youngstown tavern last September.

Reports Income

CLEVELAND, Feb. 10—Valley Mould Iron Co., the Hubbard, O., firm which produces the moulds in which steel ingots are made, reported yesterday 1948 net income of $1,952,273. This was equal to $18.80 per common share and compared with $1,630,091 and $15.47 the year before.

VALENTINE DAY'S the day of days for a teen-agers' party—a time for romance, rose-colored lights and young love. Make "Cupid's Bar" the focal point of the party. Teen-agers' appetites are phenomenal, no matter how romantic the occasion. Provide plenty of food and an abundance of well-chilled bottled carbonated beverages. Each guest can be his own bartender, if you put out a number of bottle openers. Have a reserve of bottles in the refrigerator.

Menu: Assorted soft drinks, cupid's snack tray, Valentine and frosty-heart sandwiches, potato chips, candy sticks, ice cream with red candy hearts and pink sauce.

Better serve decaffeinated coffee as well as regular. Some youngsters may prefer it.

Cupid's Snack Tray: Cheese Hearts: Cut processed cheese, in slices 1/4-inch thick, then cut the slices with a small, heart-shaped cutter.

Celery Arrows: Trim small stalks of celery hearts but leave a few leaves at the top. Stuff the stems with cream cheese mixed with enough mashed pimientos to make it pink, and seasoned with a little grated onion, salt and 1 or 2 teaspoons mayonnaise. To the tray add chilled stuffed and ripe olives and salted almonds to complete the asparagus.

Valentine Sandwiches: Cut thin sliced sandwich bread with a 2-inch round cutter. With a very small heart shaped cutter stamp out the centers of the half slices. Make sandwiches with cooked chopped ham mixed with a little mayonnaise. Fill the heart-shaped openings with the same sized hearts cut from slices of cranberry jelly or canned pimiento.

Frosty-Heart Sandwiches: One loaf sliced whole wheat or white bread, two 7-ounce cans tuna fish, 1/2 cup finely cut celery, mayonnaise, 1/2 teaspoon chili powder, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt (or more), 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1/2 pound cream cheese.

Trim the crusts from the bread and cut with a medium-sized heart cutter. Spread lightly with butter. Mix tuna fish with celery, seasonings and just enough mayonnaise to make a good spreading mixture. Make sandwiches, then cover all over the outside with cream cheese whipped with a little cream to make it creamy and smooth enough to spread. Pierce each heart with a toothpick tipped with a tiny red pepper cap or with fringed paper cut from a chop frill—or garnish with slivers of olives for "broken hearts."

Celery Arrows: Trim small stalks of celery hearts but leave a few leaves at the top. Stuff the stems with cream cheese mixed with enough mashed pimientos to make

Expect Walter B. Smith To Reenter Army Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10—(INS)—President Truman is expected shortly to let Gen. Walter Bedell Smith step aside as United States ambassador to the Soviet Union, and reenter active military service.

Official government circles today intimated that the wartime chief of staff to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is actively under consideration for command of the first army, with headquarters at Governor's Island, New York.

Smith, who retained his rank as general while serving as envoy to Moscow during the past three years, now is undergoing a physical check up at Walter Reed Army Hospital following his return recently from the Soviet capital.

Opportunities to buy to advantage are found daily in The News classified advertising columns.
